

Literacy

In literacy we have been looking at the work of Nick Butterworth who is a British children's author and illustrator. He has sold more than 15 million books. As our topic is Gardeners' World we have been focusing on Percy the park keeper stories. This is a picture of Percy the park keeper with his friends the animals.

There is a wide range in the Percy the park keeper series and all the stories are set in a beautiful park. All the stories are fiction and have Percy and the animals talking to each other. Videos of these delightful stories can also be viewed on You Tube.

Having read Everybody's friend Percy last week we are focusing on another story this week called, The Rescue Party.

The children are enjoying the stories and have produced some amazing writing already.
