

Week beginning 21/09/2020

The good work continues in year 5.

In maths, we are continuing to focus on different ways of representing numbers and continue to look at money in our arithmetic lessons. Times tables is very important and is constantly being addressed.

In literacy we have entered our final week of trying to create tension in our writing. Our final piece of writing will be the coming together of all of the areas we have covered over the last few weeks. We are looking forward to reading the work of our fellow classmates.

In science we are focusing on the water cycle. We are looking at how evaporation and condensation play a part in the process.

One of our classes has started swimming lessons which makes up for the lessons it missed in year 4.

Hope you enjoyed reading this and see you next week.
